Train Drags Trailer Truck Wreckage Quarter Mile

Murray K. Wismer, 31, a truck driver from Jordan, Ont., escaped death by a matter of inches when a northbound train hit his tractor trailer on the Bradford flats at noon on Tuesday.

The train hit the large multi-wheeled trailer broadside and carried it a quarter of a mile west along the tracks toward Bradford. The tractor was left standing at the edge of the track.

Wismer opened the door of his cab and stepped out as the train passed. The trailer connecting pin was sheared off as the trailer was carried along by the train.

According to Wismer he was not aware of the approaching train until his front wheels were just on the first track. He said he heard the whistle, saw the train and tried to "gun" the truck across the track. The front cab section was just past the track and the trailer section straddled it when the train hit. No. 11 highway runs parallel to the C.N.R. tracks for two miles along the Bradford flats. The truck had turned north on a sidetrack to pick up a load of lettuce on the other side of the tracks at the Federal Farms warehouse. A witness in another truck driving parallel with the approaching train said he thought the truck must have been on the other side of the track.

"Then I couldn't believe my eyes when I saw it hit," he said. "The trailer was thrown about 12 feet in the air in a cloud of dust and was carried along the track. Afterwards when I looked back and saw the driver getting out of the cab I really thought I was seeing things."

Several sidetracks along the flat stretch of No. 11 highway cross the track a few yards from the pavement. The train, No. 41, was held up for a couple of hours as the track was cleared. Engineer was Leo F. Connaghan, 77 First St., New Toronto. The truck belonged to Mason Cartage, St. Catharines.

At the scene of the accident were Chief Constable Joe Jardine, East Gwillimbury and Provincial Constable Swinghammer.

Served Area Since 1891 Dr. J. H. Wesley Dies

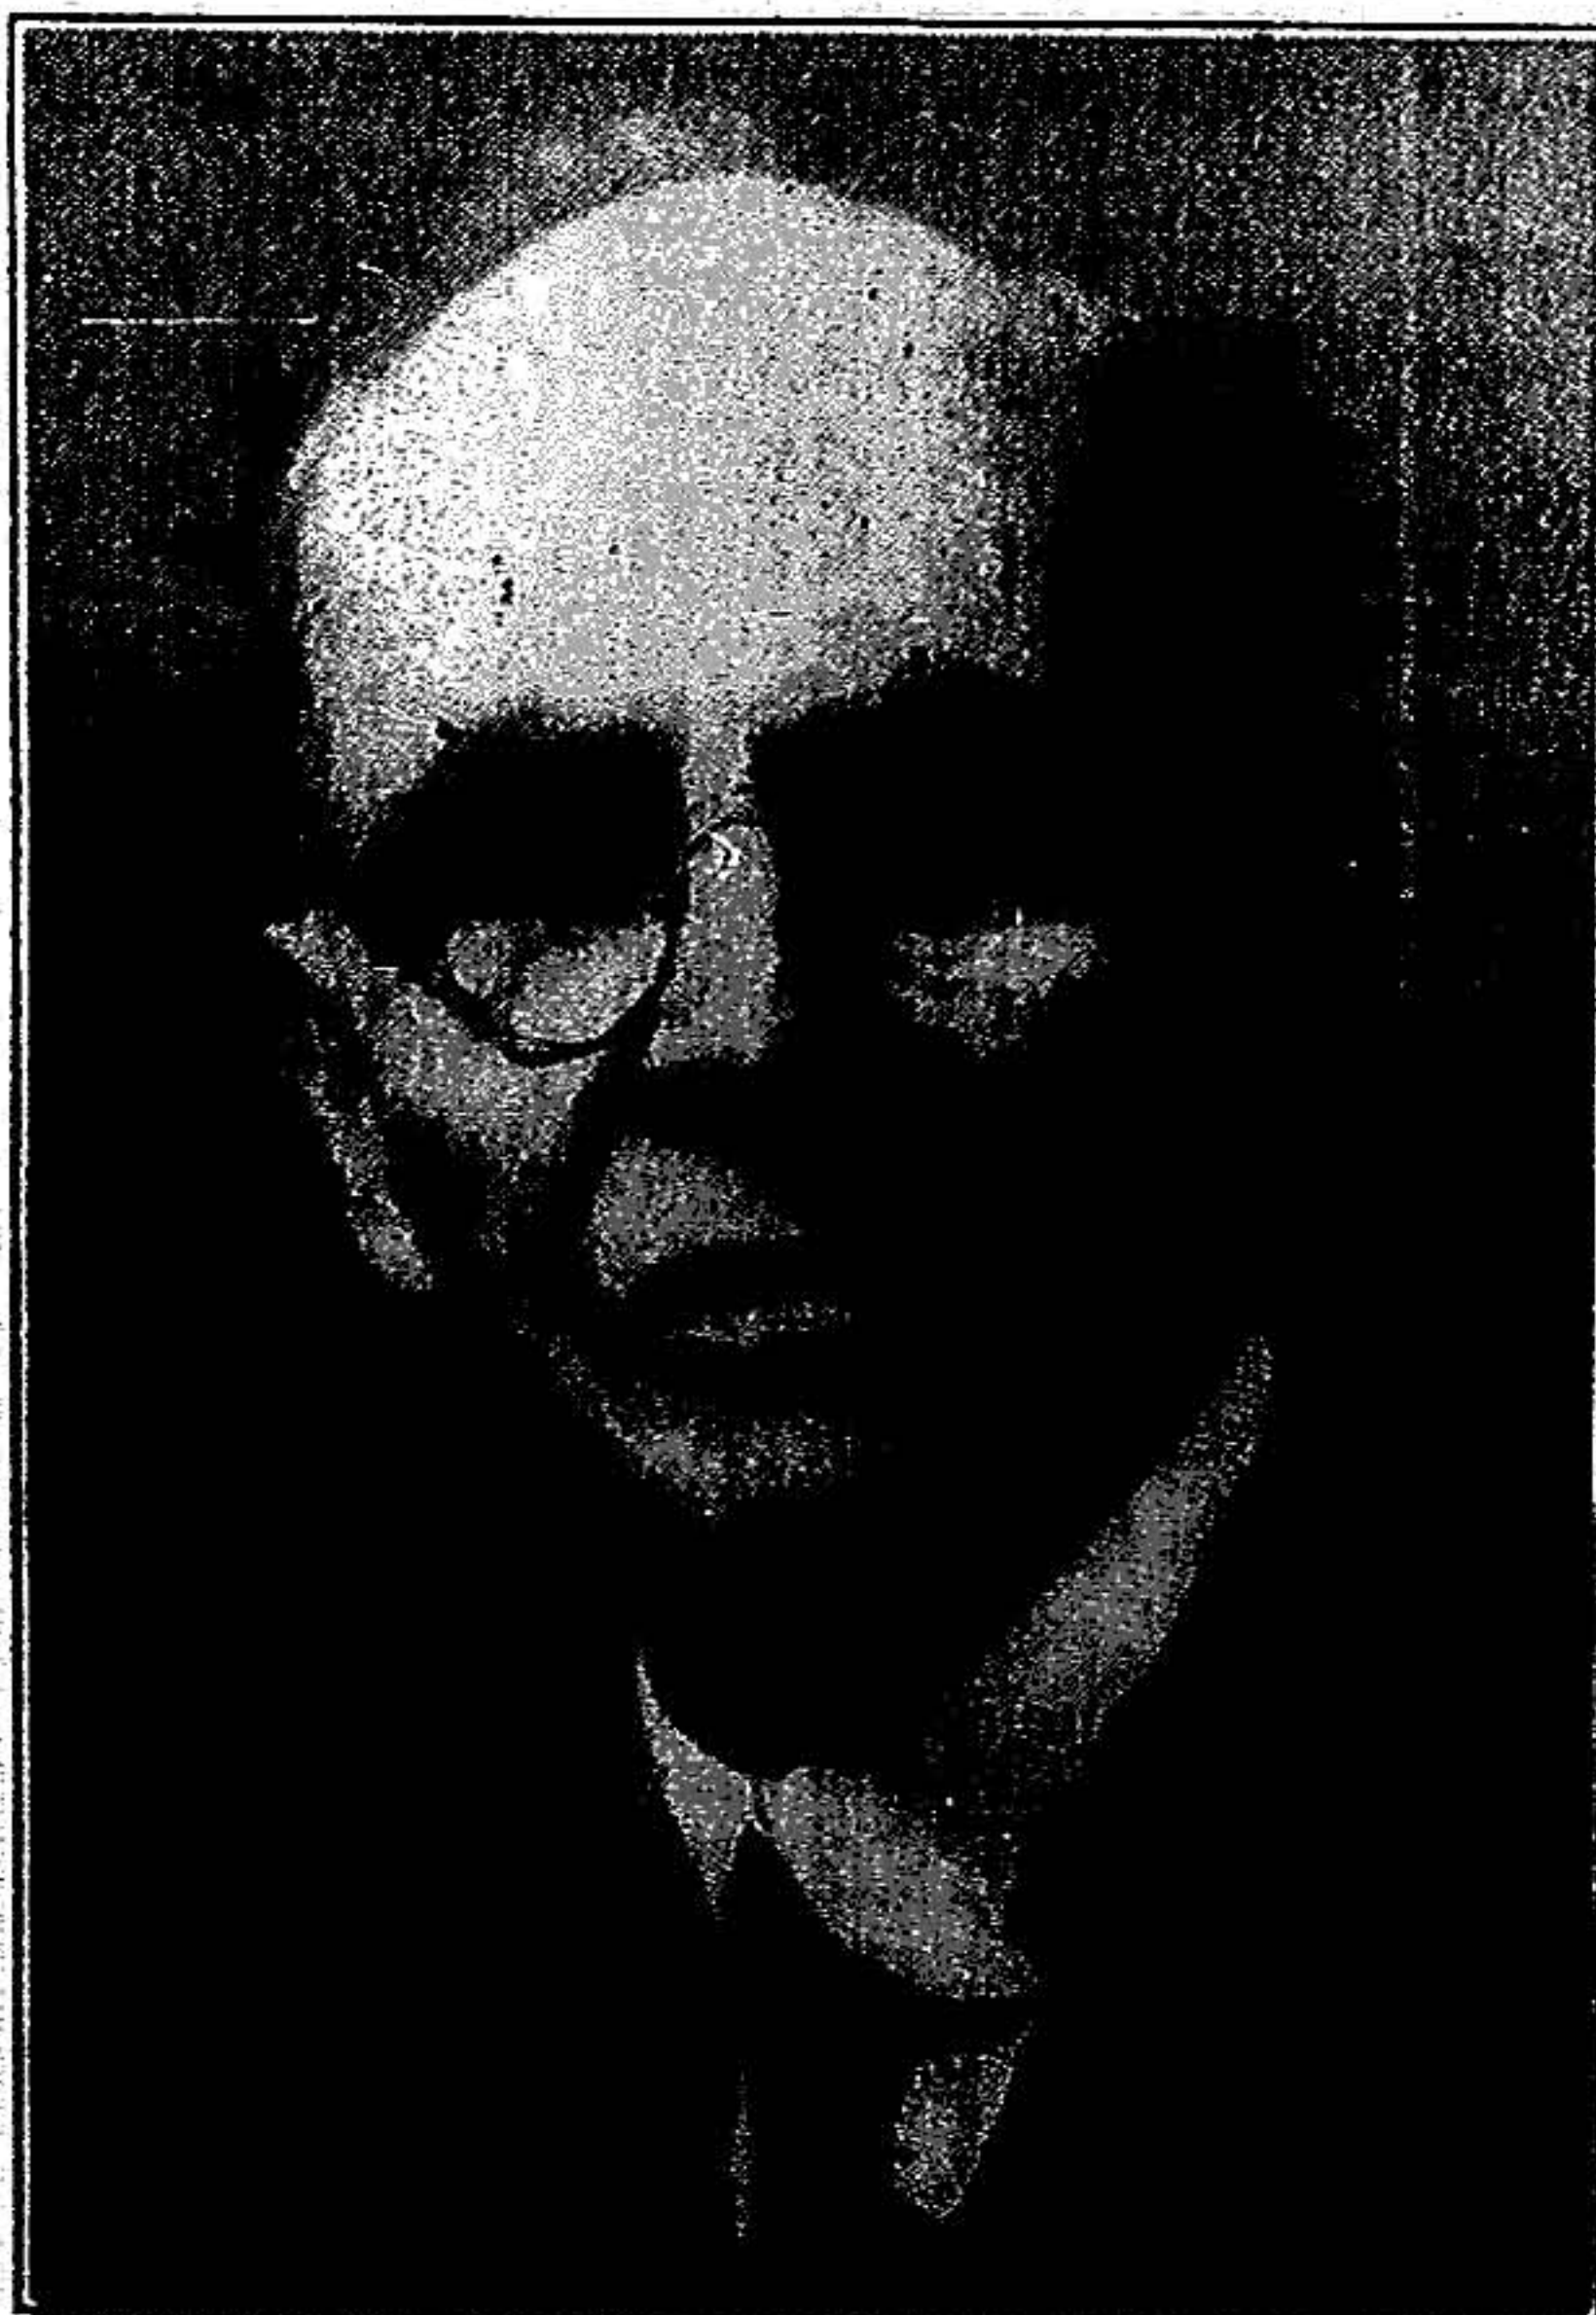

Funeral services were held on Monday, July 2, for Dr. Joseph Henry Wesley who died on Friday after an illness of six months. He had been a prominent figure in medical and municipal circles in this district where he was born and had lived all his life.

Born in Whitechurch township in 1867, the son of Mary and Joseph Wesley, he fulfilled his early ambition to become a medical doctor by hard work and perseverance. He taught school in the district to earn the money to take him through medical school. He graduated from the University of Toronto Medical School in 1891 and practised for a short time in Keswick before moving to Newmarket.

He was appointed coroner in York county in 1894 and was medical officer of health for Newmarket for 12 years, from 1934 to 1946, and played a part in establishing the public nurse office in town. He was physician at the York County Home for the aged for 54 years, a position he retained until the time of his death.

Although of the "horse and buggy" tradition, Dr. Wesley kept abreast of the times and among other progressive accomplishments, installed the first x-ray apparatus in Newmarket. He later donated this equipment to York County hospital. His specialist certificate in diagnostic radiology from the Royal Canadian College of Physicians and Surgeons was a proud possession.

He was a member of Tuscan Lodge, Newmarket, and Trinity United church. Apart from his practice, his chief interest was in agriculture and during his life, he owned several farms. He also had owned real estate in Newmarket including the Wesley

Bolt Hits Roof On Main Street Holt Barn Lost

The roof of the former municipal office building, corner of Main and Botsford Sts. was afire at 10 a.m. Wednesday when a bolt of lightning struck.

Electrical storms coursed back and forth across the district yesterday and Newmarket was in semi-darkness most of the day. Near Holt a barn was struck and burned to the ground; a large tree was hit by another bolt. Wind was strong and bad storms hit the lake area near Sutton. Some large trees were blown over.

At mid-morning Main St. in Newmarket was in darkness during a hydro blackout and a torrential rain. Several people near Smith's hardware were stunned when a bolt of lightning charged off Dawson's boathouse at the Jersey river mouth. Bob is believed to have had a cramp. The other two boys attempted to rescue him but were unable to hold him in the deep cold water.

Drugging operations were carried out by Chief Constable William Hill, North Gwillimbury and the body was located before midnight Monday.

A barn was burned to the ground a mile and a half north of Holt on the 7th line of East Gwillimbury at the farm of Ernest Marles. Ten tons of hay were burned but the livestock was saved. Implements and outbuildings were also saved. The Mount Albert fire department fought the fire.

Residents around Holt said that the lightning was bad. Shortly before the fire at the Marles farm a large tree was struck. Although wind was strong in other parts of the province, it missed the Newmarket district.

Bob Diamond was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Diamond. His father operates the Triangle service station at Eagle and Yonge Sts. He took over the operation of the station last year. Bob attended Newmarket high school the past year and was well known among teen agers in Newmarket.

He went to Lake Simcoe with his brother, Harry, and Ronnie Reid, Newmarket, on Monday afternoon. They were swimming off Dawson's boathouse at the Jersey river mouth. Bob is believed to have had a cramp. The other two boys attempted to rescue him but were unable to hold him in the deep cold water.

Drugging operations were carried out by Chief Constable William Hill, North Gwillimbury and the body was located before midnight Monday.

Several of his friends said they had been talking to Bob before he went to the Lake Monday. He had said that he did not know whether he would spend the holiday at the auto races or go to the lake for a swim. He was

Our national economy, our industrial production, the health of our people and our security, benefit greatly from the ability of our agriculture to produce great quantities of essential foods.

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

As a rule, we enjoy the writing of this column. It's a pleasant way to pass the time of day with our readers, have a little fun, a little social intercourse. And it gives us a chance to get out from behind the anonymity of the editorial page.

But this week it is a chore. The year has been too long; holidays are overdue. There is absent the sense of freshness with which we can normally approach the week. And too, there is a sense of sameness which we fear must be as obvious to the reader as it is to the writer.

These are awkward times. There are the difficulties which are attendant the shifting of staff as they take their holidays. It would be so much simpler to close down for two weeks. Many papers do, but we have always felt that a subscriber makes contract for the 52 weeks of the year, not for 50 plus the two weeks when no paper comes out.

We have some consolation in that this feeling of sameness is not foreign to other editors. One wrote that the straw was getting soggy from too much threshing, and forthwith closed shop and went off for a rest. We won't be closing but we're going to try and get ahead of ourselves long enough to take a week or two off and — of all things — paint the house.

Well, they say a change is as good as a rest.

We suppose that it is because of this fatigue that some of the normal operational hazards of publishing are the more irritating. Last week, for example, we had planned to use several pictures on the front page. One set, in which there was a keen interest was taken at the farwell party for Rev. Henry Cotton and Mrs. Cotton. The pictures were sent to the engraver in Toronto in good time but somehow, connections were missed and despite assurances of their arrival on time for Thursday publication, they didn't reach us until too late for use. They are in this week but in the meantime, we had to try and explain to those who were looking forward to their appearance what the trouble was.

We have an editorial prepared on milk prices; may yet put it in. But as strongly as we feel about the manner in

SHOPPING BAG RAMPANT

A broadcaster in search of a symbol for Dominion Day settled on a shopping bag crammed to bursting with holiday needs as the most appropriate. July 1st weekend is the time for going to the cottage. In this great exodus from the cities, what is more common than the shopping bag.

No doubt a few lions and unicorns, a sprinkling of roses and fleur de lis, and it all done up with a tasteful arrangement of beavers and maple leaves would be more to the patriotic taste, but the shopping bag, in its own way, manages to say a great many things about our country. For one, it speaks of a people which is able to spend much of its leisure time on beaches and in the north woods.

There is a suggestion too of an emphasis upon the utilitarian and the practical to the disadvantage of the "finer" things which is common to Canada. And the fact that the bag can be crammed, and that it be only one of several pieces of luggage crowded into the back seat of a car or nesting between one's knees on a railway car seat, is evidence of the bounty Canadians enjoy.

We grant you that a worn and ragged shopping bag with sand shovels sticking out from on top next week's roast would not look too well engraved in the stones of the Parliament Building but there is much to be said for it as a symbol of Canada on the occasion of her 84th birthday.

ACCIDENT TOLL

The Dominion Day weekend exacted a heavy toll of Canadians. Eighty died in accidents or by violence; of that number, 41 died in Ontario. This figure exceeds even the pessimistic estimate of the Ontario Safety League which, on the basis of last year, forecast an accident toll of 28 of which 19 would die on the highways and eight on the water. Last year in Ontario, 15 lost their lives, seven on the highways and eight on the water.

The League suggests that July 1 be renamed "The Dominion Sacrifice". It is a grim suggestion but the rising toll bears it out. Some of those lives were lost by carelessness; others were lost by the carelessness of the first. It is not encouraging to learn each Dominion Day that our ability to take lives and the lives of others is improving.

This accident toll is not necessary. It has been shown before that a concerted effort to cut down accidents can bring about that happy result. We have been able to reduce accidents on New Year's Eve by a combination of advance warning, stern policing, and safety education. Cannot such campaigns be directed at the weekend traveller? There are agencies now for public education. The Safety League is one. The Red Cross another. Can not these agencies be encouraged by government assistance to further spread the gospel of accident prevention? Is the accumulated misery of Dominion Day accidents to be the nation's birthday present forever.

GANG INSTINCT

Most adults at one time or another have felt the pressure of social conformity. Most of us, at one time or another, have compromised our wishes with those of a group. So it should not be difficult to understand the tendency of teen-agers to form gangs, to follow so slavishly the dictates of the gang in dress and behavior. To see a group of teen-agers at the beach is like watching a group of penguins, all dressed alike, all acting alike.

There is no harm in this; it is a stage which all of us grow through. What passes understanding is the strength of the need to be "one of the gang." It is literally so important that it has cost the lives of countless youths. "I didn't want to be called a sissy by the gang," a boy tells his parents from his death bed. He was the 23rd to die of narcotic poisoning in New York.

Our society places a premium of uniformity. Our entertainment, our social habits, our schools, our labor; all are aimed at masses. We are like so many herds of cattle in our insistence of similarity. All that keeps our society from descending to absolute level of robotism is the overlapping of our interests. We are simultaneously members of several gangs, and the variety maintains some aspect of individualism—but not much.

The gangs among teen-agers, and the extreme importance to be acceptable to the gang are reflections of adult society. Naturally the percentage of teen-agers who go to the extremes of rape and assault, of exaggerated dress and loud behavior is very small. But all seem to share the same desire to be one of the gang at the expense of their own individuality.

Our society was founded on the sanctity of the individual, but we seem to be doing our best to destroy individuality and replace it with similarity. What is the reason? Historians can only speculate. But there is no denying this trend to the common denominator in every aspect of life. And it is a dangerous trend, contrary to all our tradition.

THEY ADMIT THEY WERE WRONG

(Financial Post)

In its marketing policy, the International Federation of Agricultural Producers, the parent body of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and similar organizations in other countries, has just completed the circle. At its recent annual conference in Mexico City it endorsed the International Wheat Agreement, then added this:

"In doing so, IFAP desires to call attention to what it considers one of the principal weaknesses in that agreement—namely, the prescription of fixed price ranges instead of flexible ones—through provisions to adjust prices to meet changing conditions."

In the present International Wheat Agreement, as in the late and disastrous British Wheat Agreement the fixed price is the major feature. Take away that and nothing is left. Moreover, until actual and bitter experience taught them otherwise, the Canadian Federation of Agriculture and the Wheat Pools, which dominate it, boasted that fixed prices would bring the western wheat farmer prosperity and stability. As for flexible prices "to meet changing conditions," that said the Pools and the CFA, was gambling. At their insistence the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and its flexible price were put out of the picture.

Now these people are beginning to admit that they were wrong. They want flexible prices back. At a cost of several hundred millions to western wheat farmers, they have learned the simple lesson that no man or group of men can hope to guess what wheat will be worth next month, let alone for the next three or four years.

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY

(Midland Free Press)

While the official task of leading the temperance-minded people of this nation may lie with the elected executives of the provincial and national federations and with their administrative and field workers, theirs is, in fact, only a small part of the undertaking.

And it is a part which, of itself, can never materially influence either the course of legislation or public thinking.

The major challenge must be accepted by individual Canadian citizens.

When we solve the alcoholic beverage problem we will solve it largely through individual solutions in individual lives.

Religious leaders know that.

Conversions are not brought about in the mass through resolutions passed by church boards, conventions, presbyteries, synods, or councils.

You cannot go to Heaven on a law.

Nor can you bring about a proper attitude toward alcoholic beverages by legislation.

True, legislation has its part to play, just as the paid employees of the temperance federation have a vital job to do. And both need consideration and support, far more than they are now receiving.

But the big need today, in all our Canadian life, is for re-awakening by the citizens at large to the vital importance of individual conviction and action.

One man or woman, or better still, one family, who set a living example to the people round about them, can accomplish far more than a dozen delegations to Toronto or Ottawa, or a hundred editorials such as this.

As we have grown up as a nation materially, we have grown down spiritually.

With the growing emphasis on collective size, we have forgotten the vital importance of individual stature.

In the church, the club, business life; in the home, the factory, and the office, the individual decisions taken and the individual opinions expressed will finally determine whether or not the high purposes of the tempo-aneo cause will fail or succeed.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

A reader said to me the other day, "Why don't yuz write a editorial in the paper about those awful startlings up in that tree there. It's a disgrace, and right over the sidewalk."

So I gets to thinking that there have been a lot of little things which have been overlooked as far as editorial writing is concerned. So I tells the boss that if we are going to stay a prize winner in the editorial field, that he needs some help from me in editorial writing.

There are a lot of holes along Main St. for instance. Now there is something about which I shall editorialize about. It was just the other day that one of Slim's hounds was nosing down an alley when he came to Main St. Sniffing along, he pushed the cover off one of the holes for the new lamp posts and fell in.

It took an hour to go through a lot of red tape before they called the humane society up from Toronto with a special truck and shoe horn to get him out.

Moe the Merchant was talking to me at nine o'clock in the morning, the time they were digging one of the holes beside the Bank of Montreal building.

"I told those fellas that the bank opens at 10 o'clock but apparently they can't wait that long," he said.

One of Slim's friends came out of the pool room and cast a long look into the hole. "They's not tryin' to get in this bank."

"What do you say they're doing?" I asked.

"They's building a another bank underneath this one to run competition to it, with escalators in and out of it," he said.

Another man looking on said that it was not that at all, that the men were just digging it to see how much cement it would hold.

It is little things like this that our editorial writers of today are forgetting to write about.

And then there is talk of tearing up Main St. by next year. If they are going to tear up Main St., the merchants at one end of the street are going to be shut off from traffic longer than the ones at the other end which isn't fair. However, if they tear down Main St. it will be visa versa.

They can't start at the centre and work out very well either. It's just one of the many problems we are going to be faced with in the future and not to mention a sewage disposal plant.

Sewage disposal is the "something we are going to be faced with-est" thing that's been talked about. We have been "going to be faced with" it for the last two years. The department of health has been saying "this year or else" and waving a sewer pipe over our heads for a fearfully long time.

But if we build a sewage disposal plant in town, we will take out debentures which will cost a lot of money to the taxpayers which will lower the vote standard. I think that we should solve the problem by doing away with debentures. All they ever talk about is debentures, debentures. My uncle Thesius was a self made man and he never even used them once. He used a printing plate.

As the boss says you can approach the whole question from various angles. Well, I have approached the hole question from various angles as well as street and sewers.

Now there is a little matter of oil on troubled streets. I was talking to one of those complaining types of citizens. He says he hasn't had a drop of oil on his street this year, that the grader has torn it up and it's inches deep in dust.

Now some of these citizens do nothing but bellow and holler before looking into the matter and finding the facts. He'll get his oil if he would just be patient for a while. Doesn't he know that they have been digging three oil wells in the next block over and that one of those three is for road oil in the town? — At least that's what they tell me!

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

We are wondering what ever happened to the new, Improved Milk Control Board which, to use the standard expression so beloved by the writers of soap commercials, is not only new and improved but also contains the Mayor of Toronto.

It was a long, long time ago that this board set out to do something about the price of milk. They were given the job of swimming against the current, of keeping their finger in the hole in the dyke. In other words, they were to hold the price of the milk down. In our experience, to hold the price of milk down is the equivalent of holding the processors' profit up, the milk drivers' wages up, and the farmers' return down.

So the Board set out and asked for balance sheets and statements from the dairies. Some gave it readily. Some dairies did it reluctantly and some refused to do it. And the board waited and waited. We have a sneaking suspicion that we know or at least have a cracking good guess, which dairies have refused. It is too bad that the board didn't publish their names, saying that it was due to their lack of co-operation that there is no decision yet.

However, we are sure that the decision is soon to come because the whole issue is making the proud parents of the board look foolish. And that is not too good politically. Secondly, because this is the slack milk consumption season and any upsurge will have less effect and by fall everybody will have forgotten it. And finally, because the farmers, in spite of all the prophecies to the contrary, are having a whale of a lot of trouble having as good a year as the minister said they would, and have no time to worry about milk.

There are those who whisper they have exclusive information regarding this decision. They say that milk picked up would be 19 cents and delivered it will be 21. If the board got away with this it would be marvellous for a lot of people. The dairies would have had the 21 cents they wanted from the start, and the public would have had 19 cents which is less than previously. The only trouble is that nobody tells us what the dairy farmer is going to get. The board can't very well ignore us, indefinitely, and when they recognize the fact that the producer has to have a fair return, the price of milk picked up will be about 20 cents, and delivered it will be no more. Of course, that's why the Milk Board was remodelled so the price won't go up. And to many people, it will be a failure on the part of the Board. To us, it would be only the truthful admission that the price of milk cannot be held regardless, which usually means, no raise to the farmers.

We wish the board did this. It is an immense step in the right direction to have an official body admit that the price of milk should be set on a picked up basis. It is something we always felt and advocated to be correct. We wish that the board would let it go at that and set only the price of picked up milk. We really think that there's where its authority ends anyway. Let the dairies add to this the real cost of delivering. We think it would be 4 or 5 cents. Then let the housewife decide. And let the consumer remember who really Paid for delivery in the past.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

EDITORIALS

By J. G. SINCLAIR

Beyond buying tickets for draws and the like, we don't gamble. This is not because we are any better than our neighbor. The explanation is simply that, so far, we've remained immune from the bite of the gambling bug.

However, the question of legalizing gambling comes up from time to time, to provoke a flurry of opposing opinions. In its June 7th issue our valued contemporary, The Warton Echo, which can generally be relied on for original, provocative editorials that hit the point, said this: "If we are to have wide-open gambling in Ontario, as we have right now, with lotteries, bingos, raffles, draws and betting on horses with official sanction or tacit approval, why not put the thing on an organized scale and direct the proceeds into worthwhile channels, with the strictest possible supervision."

We put the Echo's editorial aside to read it again. Then the other day we were suddenly reminded of it when we read a declaration by England's Archbishop of Canterbury on the subject of legalizing gambling. The distinguished prelate of the Church of England has aroused a storm of controversy by stating that "since Britons will gamble—law or no law—they might just as well do it legally."

All of which seems to make sense to us. We see no essential difference between buying a ticket for a church raffle and putting a dollar on a horse. The purchaser of a raffle ticket is having a little flutter with chance, and getting fun out of it. And why not?

All life is a gamble. Most people pay a life insurance premium to guard against life's risks. The editors of the Warton Echo and the Archbishop of Canterbury appear to have stated incontestable conclusions.

COUNCIL REPORT

Determined Opposition To Town Parking Meters Stalls Previous Decision

A meeting of the Aurora town council was held Tuesday when there were present Mayor Bell, Reeve Cook, Deputy-revee Murray, Councillors Corbett, Davies, Fielding Gundy, Jones and Pringle. Also present, town clerk, H. N. Clark, town clerk elect, K. G. Moses, and town solicitor L. C. Lee. Members of the public present included S. G. Hoffman, J. Bowser, Sr., J. Wilson, W. H. Stollery, S. Patrick, and chief of police, F. Dunham.

Following the presentation of accounts and reports, the meeting was largely taken up with a reconsideration of the meter problem, arising from a petition signed by 29 merchants opposing the earlier decision of council to proceed with meter installation. The opposing petition was presented by Mr. James Wilson.

A highlight of the evening's business was the appointment of Mrs. Helen Dickson as assistant town clerk, to replace Mr. Ken Moses when he takes over full appointment was that of Mr. John Orford as a member of the duties as town clerk. Another Recreation Commission.

METERS OPPOSED

Approximately three hours of the four hours' meeting of council were given over to discussion on council's previous five to three vote in favor of installing parking meters.

Mr. J. Wilson, in presenting the views of the opposition, said that parking meters on the streets of Aurora would prove a hindrance to business. He maintained that before meters were installed parking spaces should be arranged, pointing out that the site of the United church was not yet ready, after three months of discussion and slow progress.

A prolonged discussion ensued, during which many arguments, pro and con, were heard. Police Chief Dunham supported meters, as did Mr. J. Bowser, Mr. S. G. Hoffman, Mr. W. H. Stollery and others. Mr. S. Patrick drew attention to cars being parked on Main street for hours at a stretch, contrary to regulations.

Councillor Davies maintained that the views of citizens were as important as those of the merchants, as to which Mr. Bowser retorted that the wishes of merchants, to which Mr. Bowser retorted that the wishes of merchants.

Delegations withdrew shortly after 10 o'clock, and at a later stage the whole problem was again fully debated by members of council. Among many views expressed, Councillor Davies supported putting the matter to a vote of the people, as had been recommended by J. G. Sinclair in the press (Aurora News Page).

Mayor Bell and Councillor Fielding strongly reaffirmed the stand they had taken in support of meters, the mayor pointing out that he had taken a great deal of trouble to ascertain the views of many other municipalities where meters had proved successful.

Councillor Corbett asked why Weston had withdrawn meters? He proposed that they should ascertain why Weston had decided against meters.

Councillor Jones repeated his opposition to meters. Councillor Pringle said they should hesitate and take stock of the new situation created by the strong petition against meters, and the Deputy-revee concurred.

The end of the long debate was reached when a motion by Councillor Gundy, seconded by Councillor Davies, was carried. This was to the effect that a letter be written to the representatives of the opposing petition, Mr. S. G. gesting that they call a public meeting to discuss the whole matter, and bring their recommendations to council. This motion was carried, with Councillor Fielding voting against it and the mayor abstaining.

A further motion was carried, on the mayor's deciding vote, that a by-law be prepared for the installation of meters.

Council adjourned at midnight. (In next week's issue of Aurora News Page a detailed analysis of a very complicated council session will be given in "Council Sidelines." Ed.)

The Proof Is In The Figures

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING

Say 'Bigger And Better' The Word For Lions Fete, On Yonge St. July 25

Lion Gordon Duckworth and his committee, Lions Cam. McTaggart and Al. Cossar, are hard at work on the Lions Carnival which will be held on July 25th. This summer carnival should be, in Lion Gordon's own words, "bigger and better this year than ever before."

Further announcements will be made in Aurora News Page of this outstanding event, but in the meantime supporters of this annual display should make the date known to as many people as possible, Wednesday, July 25. If the weather is fine, which we hope, it will draw large crowds on to Yonge street.

The Lucky Draw has some attractive features for ticket buyers, at 25 cents each, or a dollar for a book of five. The first prize, a Kelvinator Frozen Food cabinet, is worth $500. There will be plenty of entertainment, followed by a street dance with Leo Paxton's celebrated band in attendance.

Watch for future announcements on this page. Meantime do what you can in telling people about the July 25th event, and help Lion Gordon to realize his objective of "bigger and better."

Recreation Commission The last meeting of the Recreation Commission disclosed a number of interesting features. There was the donation, for example, from the Woman's Association of the United church, amounting to $25, to help the Commission's work, and for which a letter of appreciation was to be sent on a motion by Dick Buchanan, seconded by Les Steadman.

The treasurer's report showed a balance of $2,233.65, from which the sum of $1,500 was due to be paid over to the town. It was resolved to request the municipal grant in that amount, it having been shown on the taxpayers' form as expenses incurred by the town.

It was resolved that a detailed statement be prepared for the next meeting showing all sources of revenue and disbursements covering the period of the last two years, and that the same be published in the press in the form of a display advertisement.

Other business included an instruction to the secretary to write the secretary of the Arena Commission to request that the chairman of the Recreation Commission be invited to the next meeting of the Arena Commission.

The Recreation Director brought up the matter of financing the minor hockey teams for next winter, the chairman suggesting that members discuss this important matter at their next meeting.

Principal Knowles The High School year for 1951 was extremely successful, and Principal J. H. Knowles had much praise for his teaching staff and the assiduity of the pupils under their direction. The large number of prize winners, among whom pupils from King township composed a considerable proportion, provides the best proof of the calibre of the pupils and the quality of their tutors.

It is hard to believe that so well-preserved a man as Mr. Knowles has been principal of the Aurora District High School since 1928. He looks good for another 23 years in his present capacity. The long list of successful pupils that forms a background to his scholastic career, many of these pupils having achieved high positions in the business world, furnishes a sufficient bouquet. But we can add that Mr. Knowles has not been affected by success, for he is not only a most approachable man, he is also most amiable and of a modest disposition.

The school successes we have mentioned were gained in conditions not favorable to the best work, since the present building was over-crowded with 388 pupils as of September, 1950. Naturally, the principal and his staff are looking forward eagerly to the completion of the new school.

Mr. Knowles is at present at the university, marking papers. When this work is completed he will take a rest at home, and later take a vacation at his home town in Ontario, where he will visit his father. We take the opportunity of wishing Mr. and Mrs. Knowles a very pleasant vacation.

Census Work Wondering about the nature of the reception given to the census takers, we asked that council live-wire, Mrs. Fielding, about it. She told us that we could report co-operation everywhere. Mrs. Fielding said that her difficulty was not getting into Aurora homes, but getting out of them!

It appears that after all the questions were answered, Mrs. Fielding's real work then began. That work was concerned with answering enquiries about council. It is clear that taxpayers are becoming more and more interested in council work, which is a good sign.

We don't doubt that councillor Fielding would hold her own on any council questions that were asked, for she is a diligent and good councillor, who is doing her best to justify her election.

KNOW YOUR MERCHANTS

Jack Pennock

There are four good barbers in Aurora, all of them well known. It is our pleasure this week to present the youngest of them to our readers; and because of his youth, rather than for any reasons of personal partiality, we are writing about Mr. Pennock.

The trade of a barber is one of the oldest known to human kind. Since the time when man first grew conscious of the importance of "looking his best" he has sought the skilled assistance of a barber. Without the skills of the trained tonsorial artist many men would look no better than assassins!

The history of barbers goes back, however, to periods when members of the trade were accredited to other occupations such as surgery and dentistry. In the reign of King Henry VIII barbers not only performed the work of surgeons and dentists, but were also employed in the medical capacity of blood-letting, generally used in the cure of many complaints.

The barber pole is a sign that has come down through the centuries. In olden days it was a striped pole (as it is today), from which was suspended a basin. The fillet around the pole indicated a ribbon for bandaging the arm in bleeding, and the basin was the receptacle for the unwanted blood. These symbols are still preserved today on all barber signs.

Times Have Changed: Let us not forget it, none is more important in the workings of that mechanism we call Civilization than barbers. A man may shave himself, most men do. But few men would attempt to cut their own hair. The skills of the modern barber are required to perform such an intricate operation.

Barbering has passed through many vicissitudes to reach the art that it now is. There was a time when any man, possessed of a pair of scissors and a razor, could set up as a barber. That time is long past in Canada. Without a certificate and other credentials guaranteeing efficiency, no man can operate a barber shop in Canada.

Times have changed. Not only must a man who operates a barber shop have a certificate of efficiency, he must also have a health certificate. And at any hour of the day he may be visited by a government inspector, come to see that all the regulations concerned with the business are being adhered to.

Jack Pennock If you would know more of such regulations just ask Jack Pennock the next time necessity calls you to his attractive, modern store. He has passed all the grades required for his trade. He came into the business at a time when modern regulations were being applied, and successfully graduated through all the tests.

A native of Stouffville, Jack Pennock was born in 1916, in the second year of World War I. He attended Stouffville Continuation school and later attended Markham High school. In 1937 he went to the Moler Barber College and served an apprenticeship of 1,000 hours, six months training in all. He tells us that this training period has now been increased to nine months. Government training has supplanted private tuition centres, and this is conducted through the Ryerson school, supervised in part by the Ontario Barber Association.

Aurora Public School 1951 Choirs and Kiwanis Awards. Mr. Iltyd Harris is choirmaster, and the school principal is Mr. F. D. Babcock.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

After graduation Mr. Pennock worked for one year in a barber store on Eglinton avenue, Toronto, and in 1939 went to work with Howard Findlay at Unionville, with whom he remained for three years. In 1942 he came to his present store on Yonge street, where he has built up a very successful business.

Personal Interests

Besides opening his own store in Aurora, Jack Pennock did something more important. For in 1942 he married Edna Burkitt of his own home town, Stouffville. This happy marriage no doubt explains in large measure why he is such an agreeable and likeable man.

Outside of his business Mr. Pennock has had other interests such as his love for a game of hardball, a pastime in which he engaged for 12 years with a Stouffville team. His other great out of doors attraction is deer hunting. Annually he closes his store for a week to ten days to pursue the chase of the deer. He returns, refreshed, for another long session at his trade.

As we have remarked from time to time, we have no partiality among our merchants. We move from store to store, as we think we should, giving each merchant a share of our small needs. So it is in the matter of a haircut.

We can say, however, that it is always a pleasure to us to give Jack Pennock a turn on our hirsute overgrowth. He is painstaking and skilful at his trade, and a very pleasant man at all times. It has been a pleasure for us to include him in our AURORA NEWS PAGE panel, and we wish him and his wife all good fortune in the years to come.

COOLING OFF!

It takes a lot of cooling to keep a Polar Bear happy. This largest member of the bear family is smaller than a porcupine at birth, but often weighs more than three-quarters of a ton when full grown. To this tremendous bulk, add the fact that the bear is covered with a thick, water-proof coat, which is designed to protect him in the Arctic... it's a big job keeping him cool in our zoos.

The Common Round...

By Isabel Inglis Colville

DENISE

Where we cross the dividing line between talent and genius, we enter the land of the unpredictable—a land where roses and thorns strew the pathways, where hard work and glorious achievements go hand in hand, and only God sees the ultimate fulfilment.

It has been Archie's and my privilege to watch, with something approaching awe, the budding of genius in little Denise Tunney and it was with keen delight that we accepted an invitation to go to Toronto to hear her play at a recital at the Hambourg Conservatory.

So on Saturday morning, June 10, we started off—Mrs. J. Tunney—Denise's mother, her brother Miles, Miss Hilda Tumelty, Denise, Archie and I.

Usually when we are leaving home for more than an hour or two, I look to see that everything is all safe and serene—this time I was so excited I had to go back four times—and then I don't think I knew what I saw.

How do buildings affect you? With me I either get the impression of welcome, or feel a coldness—spiritual, not physical—which makes me want to turn and run away. So I waited to see how the Hambourg Conservatory would affect me. I need not have feared. It unfolded you in a warm atmosphere of musical fellowship. From the walls famous musicians looked gravely down on those who seek to tread in their footsteps and from the receptionist, Miss Gerald, to the great Boris Hambourg we received a welcome that made us feel what a bond the love of music is.

It is Boris Hambourg, one of the very few great cellists of our day, who calls Denise "little Denise" and the name is a pet name throughout the whole conservatory.

Then we met Denise's teacher, Mr. Mills, whose teaching is making its mark in the world of music, as his playing is on the concert stage and on the radio. Before going to the Concert Hall we met some of Denise's fellow students and although those we met were all a great deal older than Denise's seven years, there was a camaraderie that was charming.

The lights in the hall were dimmed except for the cluster over the grand piano, so one's attention was centered there and no place else.

It was an informal gathering and as each pupil finished, Mr. Mills gave a few words of constructive criticism—a gathering up of what he expected them to do in the holidays. We have all heard criticisms which hurt and one has deplored them; these remarks were to the point, but Mr. Mills made his points the apex of what he knew they were capable of.

The whole recital was a revelation to us. There was a brilliance of performance, a perfection of technique and a beauty of tone color—one felt the students were depicting something they themselves saw very clearly and were using their art to let their listeners share their pleasure.

With the exception of a small boy and girl, all the performers were older than Denise—a good deal older, but when Denise sat down to the piano one forgot the child and saw the artist, for when Denise plays she is in another world—a lovely world where she comes into her own and even her face changes.

She played seven numbers in all—one a piece with four flats in one hand and three sharps in the other and her teacher said, "If anyone thinks that's easy—try it!"

During the recital there had been a concerto for two pianos played by Mr. Mills and a young girl, perhaps six or seven years older than Denise. It was very beautiful with a perfection of timing, a response in tone color and rhythm that was very fine and we waited more eagerly than ever to hear the concerto Denise was to play with Mr. Mills—two pianos also. If we had had any fears, they were speedily and completely set at rest, for from the first crashing chords which it seemed her tiny hands could hardly compass and through the 20 odd pages of the concerto, Denise was as responsive as an Aeolian harp to Mr. Mills' beautiful part at the second piano.

Mr. Mills said he had heard her play it better, but to us it was a revelation. I felt the tears come and it seemed to me that like a vision I saw a greater stage and I saw the child of today, the great pianist of tomorrow.

Mr. Mills and Denise's aunt Hilda have a very precious trust on their hands, and it is in good hands, for Mr. Mills is satisfying Denise's insatiable musical appetite with the nourishment that only a teacher with a heart full of love for music and a magic which makes of the supposed drudgery of technique, a glorified game and Hilda carries on at home.

Denise has perfect pitch and can name any note played on piano or violin—which is more difficult than is at home with

Tea at Eaton Hall Aids W.I. Lady Eaton entertained 100 guests at an afternoon tea at Eaton Hall, on June 28, on behalf of King Women's Institute. Receiving with the hostess was Mrs. Ivan Specht, a member of the Institute. Pouring tea were Mrs. Charles Baker and Mrs. Shook of Toronto. Others assisting were Lady Eaton's daughter, Mrs. Frank McEachern of Glenayr Blvd., Forest Hill Village, and Mrs. Russell Payton, Lytton Blvd., Toronto. Miss Ruth Park, Toronto, also assisted. Mrs. Baker and Miss Park are representatives of the Admiral Hood Chapter of the I.O.D.E. who assist Lady Eaton on such occasions. Mrs. T. L. Williams of King received the admission tickets as the guests entered the reception hall.

The picturesque setting of Eaton Hall, a palatial residence overlooking the lake, surrounded by spacious grounds sloping to the water front, was resplendent in the bright sunshine. The flower gardens were colorful with blooms. The guests were warmly received by Lady Eaton whose hospitality was much appreciated by King W.I. Every one was shown through the beautiful Hall by Miss McBain, Mrs. Baker and Miss Park. The view of Lady Eaton's personal suite was a special privilege on this occasion.

The purpose of the tea was to raise funds in the purchase of a linoleum floor covering for the ladies' sitting room in York County Home for Old People. The sympathy of Lady Eaton for a project to refurbish the room, which was adopted by King W.I. early in the year, has made this possible. "They are gallant women," declared Lady Eaton who hoped the tea would be a boost to their worthwhile effort.

Approximately $200 has been realized by the branch by means of individual donations from interested persons, and talent money made by members of the branch. The project was instigated by Mrs. Specht who, with Mrs. Williams, has given unstinted time. Mrs. Specht organized contacts with other organizations and personally wrote letters to several persons. Members of the branch are fully co-operating in making the "King Sitting Room" a place of gay comfort for those who must spend long hours there. Without the aid of those outside the W.I. branch and the very special help given by Lady Eaton, this field work would certainly have advanced much more slowly. Among the guests at Lady Eaton's tea, was Mrs. E. J. Arnold, wife of the superintendent of the County Home. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold are very cooperative with local branch members as is Mr. W. W. Gardhouse, County Home Commissioner.

Blue Candle on First Birthday Cake. When Jerome Howard Jackson saw the small blue candle on his birthday cake, the year-old youngster was "speechless." Too small to perform the "blowing out" ceremony at a birthday party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burwell G. Jackson, on June 17, he was assisted by his cousin Larry Baker of Maple.

Larry made a wish, and a very worth-while one it was. "I want a girl," exclaimed Larry, much to the amusement of the 18 guests. Jerry received several "ing as the baby tossed it back over his head to the floor."

Grandmother Jackson, of Maple and the baby's aunts, Miss Isobel Jackson, Toronto, Mrs. Bob Norris, Toronto, and Mrs. Bruce Baker, Maple, and Uncle Jack Hambly were present. Others were Mr. Wallace

Winnipeg Visitor Enjoys Visit. Miss Kay Burt, Winnipeg, paid a visit at the home of her brother, Mr. Ray Burt, leaving by plane for that city on Wednesday of last week. Mrs. Burt accompanied her sister-in-law to Toronto for the departure. While here, they spent a day at Elwood Park, Lake Simcoe, the guests of Mrs. R. Canney, Mrs. Burt's daughter, who has taken a cottage there. It was the first time the visitor had seen her grandchildren, Linda and Jo-Ann Canney. The bus trip to Lake Simcoe proved quite an event for Miss Burt, who was intrigued with Newmarket's main street. To her, accustomed to the wide thoroughfares of Winnipeg, Newmarket business street is quaint and interesting. After the bus rounds the curve at the south end of the town, there were all the business places, and no end of shopping centres. And the "hill right on Main Street with the church at the top" fascinated the traveller. Before coming to King, Miss Burt visited her brother, Gerald at Sherbrook. Of all the places she had seen on her trip she still felt Newmarket was "tops."

Vacation Westward. Mr. and Mrs. John Norris left during the weekend motoring to the Canadian west. Their journey takes them to Sarnia, through the States, and on to Winnipeg, where they will visit Mr. Harry Verrall who was Mrs. Norris' late sister's husband. Mrs. W. F. Hood entertained 14 children on June 19, in honor of her daughter Virginia's third birthday. The party was held on the lawn, the guests favored with party notions, balloons, etc., and refreshments. Virginia was given pretty gifts.

Mrs. G. C. Allan of Lefroy spent last Thursday with her daughter, Mrs. M. H. Bell, attending the tea at Eaton Hall and the piano recital at King when her granddaughter was one of the participants. Mrs. Allan was a guest recently at a vocal recital in Toronto given by pupils of her niece, Miss Jean Pengelly, a noted singer.

On Sunday morning, Mr. Tom Bell and son David came to King to visit his brother, M. H. Bell. He is station master at Monteith, and came as far as Aurora on the C.N.R. through train at 6 a.m. He was met there by Matt Bell.

a cheque for $25 was handed to Mr. David Wetherston, chairman, a gift from King Women's Institute toward expenses of the school. The donation will be used to purchase supplies. It was agreed by the meeting that advance registration made by parents of children who will attend the school should be made as early as possible with David Wetherston and Rev. D. C. H. Michell. This is to ensure places for children in the age groups, 5 and 6, 7 and 8, and 9 years of age and upward. Classes for the first group will be held in the basement of the United church; the second group at All Saints' Anglican church and the senior group in a place to be selected. Leaders were advised to seek helpers, and with them to draw up the program guided by that suggested by the Christian Education Council. A large enrolment is anticipated.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

How often we accept the familiar without appreciating its true worth. Proximity and complacency go hand-in-hand. Those distant fields look greener; the next town appears more prosperous.

Suddenly a visitor to our town comments on some of our facilities and we wonder how it is that we never noticed them before. There's the Lion's Park. To most of us in town, its attractions are taken for granted. Not until guests in our community comment favorably on it do we stop and grudgingly admit, "Why, yes, it is a fine picnic spot". Even then our praise is likely to be qualified with a remark that it's too bad there isn't a swimming pool.

Newmarket is very fortunate in having such a fine park as that sponsored by the local Lions' club. It has shady spots where older members of the family can sit. It has sand boxes and tiny swing-seats for the small fry, with slides and larger swings for the next age group. A ball diamond and another play area provide proper space for sports participation. There are picnic tables and seats, water, toilet facilities and until recently when the stove top of the stone fireplace was broken, cooking facilities.

For children summering in town, the supervised activities beginning the middle of July at the park are a welcome feature. A varied program, again sponsored by the local Lions' club and under the direction of Audrey Rowland assisted by Mrs. Myrtle Purcell begins on July 16.

Bus transportation is being provided for a weekly swim at Musselman's lake each Friday. On other days there will be such organized games as volleyball, softball and baseball. For the younger children, a story-time will begin each afternoon program and on Wednesday instructions in crafts.

Not only are we too complacent to compliment those who have made these facilities available for the use of the general public. But, some of the town children (boys and girls who certainly know better) have destroyed these properties. Playground equipment has been broken; trees damaged and now, the stove top has been smashed. This summer perhaps this stream of wanton destruction can be turned into the proper channels of active participation and interest in our town facilities.

Anyone Want A Kitten?

Does anyone want a cute little kitten—or four of them. Yes, again we are proud to be able to make this offer of genuine alley cat. There is a trace of Persian in the mother, our Desdemonia, who is a proud of these as she has been of her two earlier litters. However, this is probably more than counteracted by the paternal influence. On good authority we have it that Papa is none other than a neighboring farm Tom who could single-handedly lick his weight in Klondike Harries or, yes, even Whipper Watsons.

The kittens are almost as round as they are long. There is one female, black with white trimmings. Two rusty rascals, both males, with saucy white faces, white paws and tail tips and a black male with white markings complete the assortment. The black and white male has a tiny black tip to his perky, small face.

Come and see them or phone for more details. Free delivery of this valuable livestock made at new owner's convenience.

IF YOU want to show your furniture off to good advantage, then you should take proper care of it. It deserves your attention, and will repay you for it with years of beauty and service.

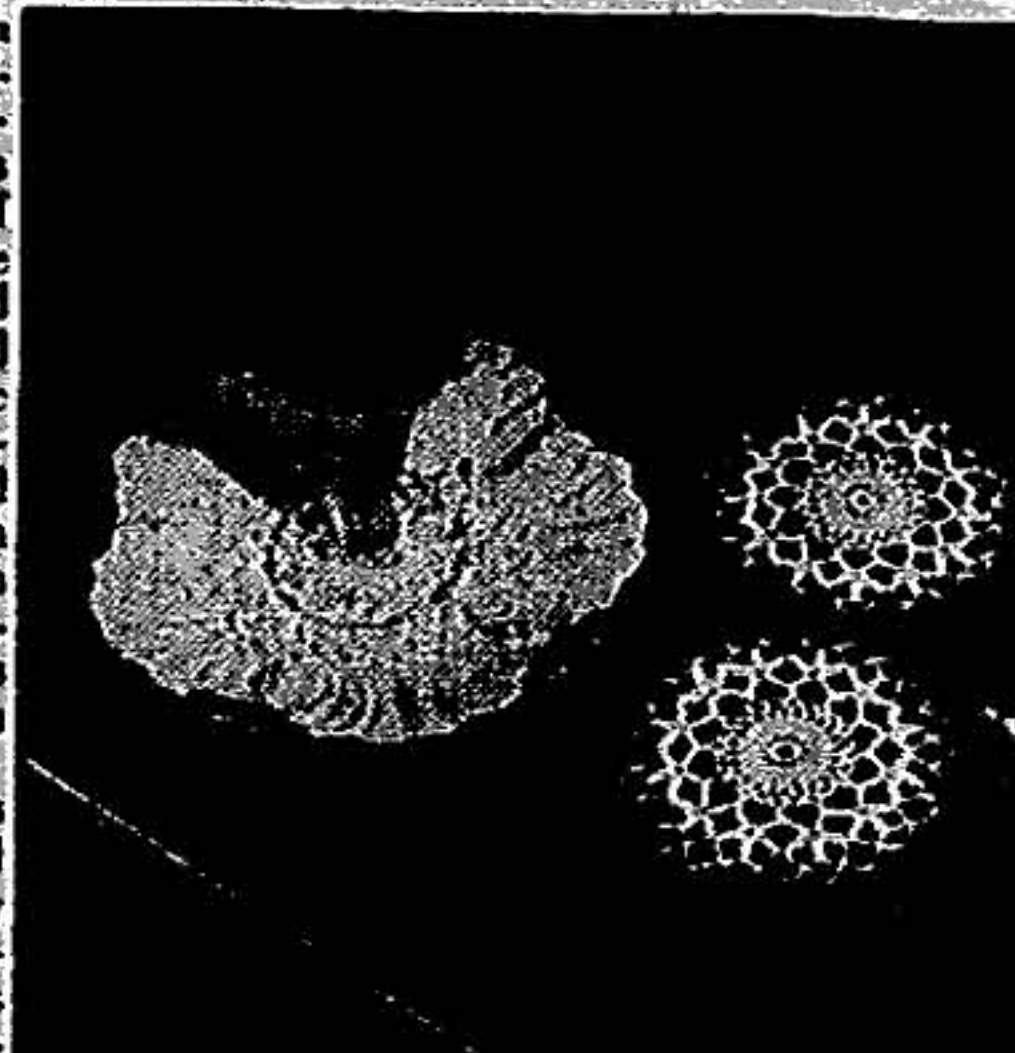

With furniture as with any wood piece your requirements for good care are proper humidity, clean surfaces and a protective coat of polish. From time to time all furniture requires a good washing with soap and water or cleaning mixture to lift the dirt that penetrates through the wax and polish. When you polish your furniture use only high grade polish and wax. Inferior polishes sometimes contain substances that gum and mar the surface.

Sometimes white marks appear on furniture and they can be removed by dabbing with a cloth dampened with ammonia. This treatment should be followed by a brisk rubbing with an oiled cloth. For a varnished surface that has turned white from heat or water, rub lightly with kerosene moistened with essence of peppermint or camphor. For a waxed surface use turpentine and then rewash after the turpentine has evaporated.

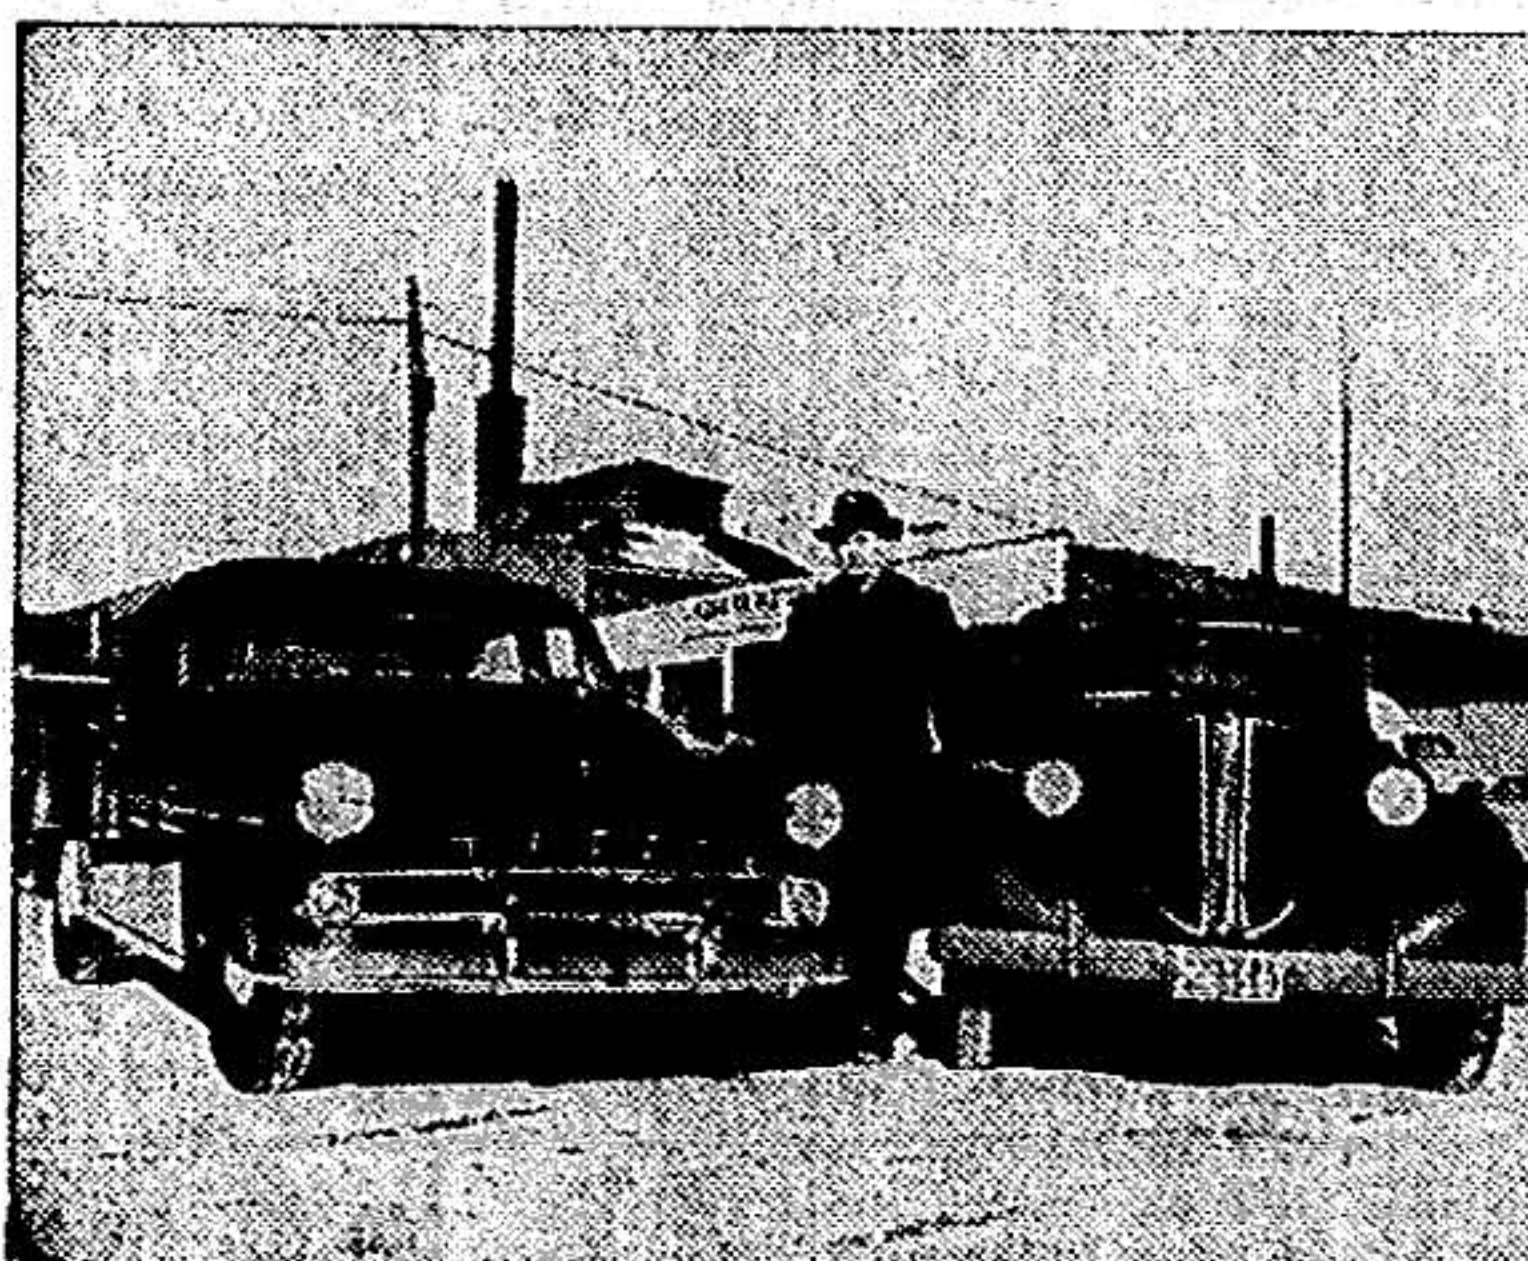

If your tables sparkle you will certainly want the lamps they hold to look equally well-groomed. Fabric lampshades of silk, rayon or cotton can be washed if they are sewn and not glued to the frame. Any shades that have gluing in their make-up must be dry-cleaned and not washed. Do not wash a fabric that will shrink. Before washing wipe as clean as possible. Use a sudsy solution of gentle flakes completely dissolved and dip entire shade up and down in it. A brush helps with the dirtier portions. Wash the shade through the suds until they are forced through the fabric. Rinse several times in clear warm water. Dry quickly (a warm, windy day is ideal) so that the wire frame cannot rust to spoil the shade. Keep turning it so that it will dry evenly. Remember to keep the shades out of the sun and away from artificial heat when drying.

Protection for your polished table surfaces as well as pretty decorative effects are provided by hand-crocheted doilies and mats. The doily doilies shown above measure just four and one half inches in diameter, as they take little time to do and make ideal coasters. Crochet a set in any of the pretty summer shades . . . pink, lilac, yellow, bright blue or green. Or, if you prefer, do a multi-colored set. For directions, write to this paper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for DEWDROP DOILY, Leaflet No. 7649.

CHEMISTRY—CUSTOM BUILT

Human beings are creatures of seemingly endless needs. And wherever these needs exist chemistry is at work to heed them. First in the laboratory, then in the factory, and finally on the farm, on the highway or in homes, chemistry finds new ways to protect health, speed industry, or bring new beauty. It is in supplying these needs, at the lowest possible cost, to more and more Canadians, that the men and women of Canadian Industries Limited take pride in the Company's slogan "Serving Canadians Through Chemistry".

The Story Of SHARON

By

ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA

This is the fourth installment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining installments will follow weekly.

In 1809 and '10, typhus fever left a trail of death across the country, scarcely a family escaped. In 1809 five of the family of Timothy Rogers died within a few weeks. The whole of Upper Canada suffered from intermittent fever, or ague, in 1828, and this continued for more than half a century until the swamps had been cleared of their miasma.

For the first time in history, 1832, cholera made its appearance in Canada. The disease broke out on immigrant ships sailing from England and Ireland. When these vessels reached Quebec and Montreal the disease quickly spread and raged along the St. Lawrence River. The inhabitants of Upper Canada were panic-stricken, thousands died that year and all up and down the province were cholera burying grounds. People fled to the interior and carried the disease in their clothing.

During this fearful time York suffered more severely than either Quebec or Montreal and women endured to pioneer hardships became angels of mercy in the stricken homes. In that valuable manuscript left by Titus Willson of Sharon he relates that in 1832 he was working in the Coldwater district where a large number of emigrants had been camped at Bass Lake waiting for their shanties to be built by the government. While there the cholera broke out among them and a great many died.

He tells that he himself contracted the disease and was carried on a litter to Orillia where he lay for about two weeks when he was taken in a bark canoe across Lake Simcoe to Holland Landing.

Death columns in newspapers of the time became longer each day. All possible relief was offered. The people of Sharon did all they could to help. David Willson and Murdoch McLeod went to York and distributed from their hands to widows and orphans and afflicted ones, seventy dollars — fifty-four dollars from Hope and sixteen dollars from Markhamville. The end of that year of terror was made the occasion for public thanksgiving. But by ship in 1834 the disease was brought and raged with even greater violence.

In 1847 famine occurred in Ireland and thousands migrated to Upper Canada with a resultant typhus epidemic. This was known as the Irish Immigrant Fever. It too, reached the district of Hope, and those stricken were segregated in the old Thomas Jobb brewery in Newmarket. There was a recurrence in 1852 and 1854, but that was the last time it spread to epidemic proportions. Contemporaneously with these cholera scourges other virulent diseases raged. In 1833 and 1838 diphtheria claimed numberless victims. It was like a horrible nightmare.

From the village it seized its innocent prey, to the furthest concession its devastating breath reached, and rows of tiny graves mark the passing of the terror. In the eighties it again ravaged the community and around Sharon and in the township of King, families of three, four and five children died within days.

Until the fifties, small-pox was one of the most alarming enemies. It was brought to Sharon from Montreal by Aaron Rogers. Rogers was stricken but recovered—his father contracted the disease and died. He was one more of the earlier inhabitants of Sharon to be laid in the Burying Ground on the hill north of the village as the result of a prevailing epidemic. The people of Sharon were urged to undergo vaccination—so alarmed were they that farmers loaded their sleighs with neighbors and drove to Newmarket to Dr. Nash. In 1869 scarlet fever spread through Sharon and counted its victims. A few years later cholera again threatened and a prominent doctor published a prescription to help the people combat the disease. To this a Newmarket druggist, Mr. Kelman, added an extra ingredient to alleviate pain. So far as discovered the Board of Health was organized in East Gwillimbury during the eighteen-eighties.

Doctors of those early days experienced many hardships. Theirs was an era of pre-horse and bugby days. "They were not strangers to the saddle on lonely trips through the sparsely settled country over bush roads that were well-nigh impassable. They were seldom paid in coin of the realm, most often in product of the soil, and often the best the early settler had to offer was his heart-felt thanks."

The coming to this northern wilderness by these pioneers had been no temporary reprieve by which they hoped to escape life's frustrations. Instead they faced whatever life set before them. Middle-aged fathers and mothers and silver-haired grandparents had undertaken the perilous journey, and in their loneliness, as they watched the rounding orb of night rise above the forest, it requires little imagination to enter into their thoughts of that distant homeland over which that same moon was shining.

Miss Bernice Reid, R.N., of Toronto, visited her sister, Mrs. Gordon Knott, and Mr. Knott for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Knott spent the holiday weekend with relatives at Meaford and Thornbury.

The Cheerio club met on Saturday night at the home of Misses Florence and Gladys Brooks with 39 ladies present. Mrs. Will Shillinglaw and Mrs. Mel Oldham were in charge of the program. Miss Mildred Dike gave a very interesting talk on her trip to Florida last winter. Plans for the Cheerio picnic on July 18 were completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Slorach spent the holiday at their cabin, Lake Simcoe.

Mr. Will Hart and a friend from Thornton, Ill., was a Monday visitor of Mrs. John Cain.

A number from town attended the York County Orange Lodge service in Queensville United church on Sunday evening.

Dr. and Mrs. H. O. Hutchison, Shelburne, were Sunday dinner guests of the Misses Brooks and called on a number of friends in the afternoon.

Miss Bertha Crone left on Wednesday night for Banff where she has a position for the summer.

Miss Ann Carruthers left on Monday for Toronto where she has taken a position in the Bell Telephone Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moorehead recently celebrated their 35th wedding anniversary by taking a trip through western Ontario and over across the lines through Michigan. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Heisy of Selkirk, brother of Mrs. Moorehead, and the party had a very delightful trip as at this time of the year everything is beautiful.

Mrs. Gordon Wagg, Linda, Jimmie and Mrs. Stokes Sr., of Belleville, have come to spend a holiday with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dawson of Toronto were holiday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Price. Tommy returned home with them after a stay of a few weeks with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Draper and family spent the holiday at Bala, Muskoka.

Dr. H. O. Hutchison, a former minister at Mount Albert, now of Shelburne, and Mrs. Hutchison, dropped in for the service on Sunday morning, which was a pleasant surprise for all old friends.

Mrs. P. C. Shapter had a very fine recital of her music pupils in the church basement on Tuesday evening. It opened with the youngest, Jean Leek just six years old, and followed with all grades playing their different numbers in a most pleasing manner.

Mrs. Shapter was presented with a lovely bouquet of flowers at the close and her daughter, Mrs. Bruce Cummings, played two beautiful selections to bring to a close a lovely program and which makes one think that with such a good training there should always be plenty of pianists available in years to come.

The W.A. of the United church held a strawberry supper on the church lawn last Wednesday and the net proceeds were $92.

Next Sunday evening will be the annual Decoration service at Mount Albert cemetery which will commence at 7 p.m., D.S.T. Rev. P. C. Shapter will be the minister in charge and there will be special music lead by the men's choir.

Miss Eva Morrison who has been the Jr. room teacher at Mount Albert, left on Friday for her home at Kingston where she has secured a school. Mrs. H. W. Pearson will be the teacher of this room when school opens.

In Hort. Soc. Contest

An art contest open to the pupils of grades 1 to 7 in the Newmarket elementary schools was sponsored by the Newmarket Horticultural society as a part of its juvenile program. Mrs. Anton Czernick convened the project.

Pupils selected a suitable horticultural subject such as birds, flowers, trees, from which they drew their inspiration for their splendid attempts in the field of art. The children showed much enthusiasm in the contest making the task of selecting two winners from each class very difficult for the teacher.

News Of The W.I.

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

Laskay branch will hold a picnic on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 10, at the home of the president, Mrs. Norman Egan. The roll call is a very timely subject, "How to keep cheerful in hot weather." The sports committee are Mrs. Aubrey Glass, Mrs. Clyde Cairns, Mrs. Marshall McMurchy. Everyone is requested to provide lunch.

At the June meeting of the branch Miss Winnifred Boys covered the sessions of the district annual convention, heard with special interest by those who did not attend. Miss Boys found the motto quite helpful for the local branch. Mrs. Les Glass enlarged on the motto, dealing with citizenship. The sum of $5 was donated to the Salvation Army appeal.

A number of women met at the home of Mrs. J. T. Jones early in June to consider the forming of a W.I. on the fifth line of King as it has been very difficult to get to meetings at the Kettleby Institute which was the nearest branch to us. It was decided Mrs. N. Sproule should write the Department to see what could be done for us.

On Tuesday, June 13, another meeting was called at the home of Mrs. J. Scott, presided over by Mrs. R. Baycroft, Gormley District President of York Centre, who came to give us all the particulars of forming a branch here. She was accompanied by Mrs. F. Hare, District Secretary. Ours is the first branch formed since the division of the district, giving us now 13 branches in York Centre.

We think it is quite unique as 13 paid members joined on the 13th day of the month, making us the 13th branch in this district. Our meeting day will be the first Tuesday of every month, and the name, "King Ridge Institute". The first meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bertrand on August 7 when the officers will be installed.

The following is a list of officers: pres., Mrs. N. Sproule, 1st vice pres., Mrs. J. T. Jones; 2nd vice, Mrs. Parker; sec.-treas., Mrs. P. W. Ball; assistant, Mrs. Bertrand; district director, Mrs. J. Scott; branch directors, Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Gilham, Mrs. Cahen, auditors, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. McCrohan; press correspondent, Mrs. E. Fry; pianists, Mrs. Gilham and Mrs. Scott; standing committees, agriculture and Canadian history, Mrs. Kettlewell; home economics and health, Mrs. Parker; historical research and current events, Mrs. E. Fry; citizenship and education, Mrs. McCrohan; community activities and public relations, Mrs. Cahen.

Pine Orchard branch will be in charge of the historical research committee and will meet at the home of Mrs. R. Allen on Wednesday, July 11, at 2.30 p.m. Dr. Margaret Arkinstall will give a talk on Northern Ontario. Current events by Mrs. W. Reid and a travelogue contest will be conducted by Mrs. J. Ash.

About 60 members, ex-members and guests gathered at Trinity Hall, Aurora, on Thursday afternoon, June 28, to celebrate the 40th anniversary of Aurora branch. During the short program, addresses were given by Mrs. Charles, and Mrs. Baycroft Sr., both charter members; greeting from North York District extended by Mrs. Elton Armstrong, District President, and from Centre York by the District President, Mrs. R. Baycroft. The minutes of the first meeting held on July 6, 1911, were read by the first secretary, Miss L. Reynolds. The names of all members removed by death was read, followed by reading of an appropriate passage of scripture and two minutes silence.

Several piano duets were played by Miss L. Reynolds and Mrs. T. Grimshaw, and community singing of songs not less than 40 years old, led by Mrs. Eklund and Miss L. Reynolds.

At the close of the program, group pictures were taken in front of the hall. During the lunch which followed, the birthday cake, made by two of the members, Mrs. J. Brooks and Mrs. V. Fines, was cut by Mrs. Charles and Mrs. Baycroft Sr.

Among the guests from out of town were, Mrs. Eva Waitte, North Bay; Mrs. A. Boyd, Mrs. P. Hamilton, and Mrs. Elton Armstrong, Newmarket; Mrs. R. Baycroft, Gormley, and Mrs. F. Hare, Temperanceville. Representatives were also present from Vancor, Gormley, Temperanceville, and Snowball Women's Institutes. The charter members present were Mrs. H. J. Charles, Mrs. Baycroft, Mrs. C. Clark, Miss Leila Reynolds.

Bethaven branch will meet in the hall Tuesday, July 10, for dinner. Roll call is to be a "Teenage memory". Motto is "The sun shine in a home." The girls will shine on a house but it will demonstrate their club work. The meeting is to take the form of a quilting as two quilts are to be quilted that day. Dinner is to be pot luck, everyone providing.

Mr. Storey, who has been acting manager here since January, has had 27 years' experience in the telephone business. Born and educated in Toronto, he joined the company there in 1923 as a clerk. During the succeeding years he gained a wide variety of experience in the commercial department in both sales and business office work. In 1943 he was appointed a public office manager at Toronto and in 1948 he became assistant to the central Ontario district manager. He was appointed acting manager at Newmarket in January, 1951.

HASHMAN AWARD
For Three Homers
It's not often during the height of the softball war to get the opportunity to ask a league president to step into the spotlight. But what can you do when said prexy steps in and bangs out three four-baggers, one with the bases loaded, and drives in seven runs, seven of the 11 runs his team collects.
That's the reason the Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass for this week goes by unanimous decision to Jack Teasdale, Bell Telephone's outfielding "King of the Swat". Jack's effort was the main cog in Bell Telephone's mowing down of Hoffmans at S.S. 11-7 last Wednesday.
Jack, when not banging out home-runs to the disgust of the opposition, doubles as Town League president. Nice going sir, on both counts.

Aurora Ladies Win 5-4 Over Elgin Mills
Aurora ladies nudged out Elgin Mills 5-4 at the Aurora Town Park Wednesday to get their home stand in the North York Ladies Softball League away on the right foot. Clutch hitting by Edna Marinoff and Barbara Case, who counted three each, plus good fielding and pitching by Phyl McKinnon gave Aurora an early 4-1 lead and they nursed it through to a win. Phyl McKinnon supplemented her winning pitching effort with three hits.
Florrie Beynon drove out a base-empty homer and added two other safeties to pace the visiting corps. Third team in the North York circuit is Concord. Aurora team is sponsored by the Hart Mfg. Co. Coach is Alex Campbell and manager Sid Aylett.

Aurora Downs Hill
Aurora Town League all-stars evened up their home and home exhibition series with Richmond Hill with a 9-5 triumph on their home grounds Friday. Aurora's four run start in the initial round was the main cog in their win. Mickey Sutton, Bill Mundell and Doug Richardson shared the Aurora mound work. Norm. "Lefty" Stunden and Jack Rumney toiled on the Hill mound. Bill Mundell, Scotty McGhee and Tracy Barrager were Aurora top hitters. Murray Stephenson, Tim Saul and Mac Clement shared hitting honors with the Hill clan.

Minor Play Features
Big Run Production
Big run outputs again featured the second week of the combination bantam-pee-wee-minor Newmarket league baseball wars. Behind slugging from Ron Dewberry, Gene Garrett and Ken Cassavoy, Tigers took the Indians apart 19-10 for their second straight win. The Lewis cousins, Don and Francis, shared the pitching victory. Top sluggers in the vanquished ranks were Bill Cain and Jackie Gunn. Bill Cain and Bob Keffler were jointly tabbed with the loss.
Jumping ahead with an eight-run third innings, Red Sox collected their second straight humbling the unwinning Yankees 10-10. Jack Cain was pitching winner, Gene Garrett the loser. Super hitters with the Sox were Gary Fairbank, Brad Walker and Junior Carson. Brian Millon and Wayne Crouch got in some good licks with the stick for the well tamed Yankees.
Springing a big nine run sixth rally on the winless Yankees, Tigers stroled to a 17-11 win. It was the Tigers first show of points in the win column. Ken Cassavoy was the Tigers' main prop with a five for five hit show. Brian Millon and Wayne Crouch continued their steady base-hit production to keep the Yankees in the hunt.

Taximen Ease Out Sixth Win In Town Loop
A two-run first of the seventh rally to crack a 4-4 tie enabled the "Taximen" to ease out a 6-5 win over Office Specialty Friday in a tidy town league tussle. The victory gave the Taximen six straight but it was a narrow squeak. A four-all tie as the seventh loomed. With the game riding on every pitch Bruce Townsley waited out a fourth ball from Sheddolwick, Bruce Andrews made a great stop of Hack Cain's sizzling grounder to retire him, Harvey Gibney singled over first, and "Joint" McComb promptly smashed a double to drive both runners home.
Pete Neufeld's forces weren't licked. "Bun" Cook busted a McComb slant for a single, Don Burch skied out to short, Bruce Andrews lashed a wrong field triple to score one run and with the tying run riding on his shoulders was nipped at the plate. Stan Winger, pinch-hitting, went out 4-3, second to first, to close up the game.

TEASDALE TAKES HOFFMAN
Two plain facts were evident in Wednesday town league tussle won by the Bell Telephone 11-7 over Hoffman. Bill VanZant was giving up home run balls and Jack Teasdale was taking 'em and losing 'em. Teasdale's effort - three home runs, one a grand slammer with the sacks clogged - that counted seven RBIs was about enough to win the game single-handed.
After the Hoffman "Pressmen" got to Bell starter Bill Johnston for a two run start, home runs loomed large in the over-all picture. John McTavish powdered one to give Bell their first run then stepped aside to let Teasdale do his stuff.
Hoffman trailing 10-3 in the sixth got to Morley Cook, who came in on the Bell mound in the first, for three of their eight bingles. One of these, a smash by Bill VanZant that got through Bill Johnston's gate for a homer, gave Hoffman four runs and brought their count to seven where it stayed.
Laurie Thoms, Ken Thoms and Bill VanZant shared the Hoffman hit attack with two each. Bill Johnston and Mickey Smith were the other Bell stalwarts with two each.

Keswick Tops Simcoe Loop Mount In Pit
Three games last week were decided by one run as the league race tightens. Mount Albert was thumped by Pine Orchard to skid to the basement. Vandorf climbed out with nip and tuck win over Belhaven. Split week for Queensville.
The Realtors provided an upset by knocking of Ches. Lunney's Zephyr "Blues" 7-6, then met their Waterloo at Willow Beach 9-7. Trailing 6-2 in the sixth, Queensville unleashed a five-run sixth innings rally to humble the Blues. Wilf Elsy's homer, trips by Lon Ganton and Bob English were the big blows in the big frame. Bill Burkholder and Doug Smith chimed in with two timely hits each. Carl "Johnny" Meyers, Alan Lockie and Bill Lockie provided the Lunneymen hit music. Lon Ganton and Bruce Pegg worked in cahoots to tame Ron Kester.
A three-run fourth to overhaul the 7-6 edge carried by Queensville gave Willow Beach their third win. Cec. McNeill was stingy in the pinches with Wilf Elsy, Bruce Greig, Lyman Hall and Jack Perry only Realtors to find his stuff to their liking. Ted Anderson, Cec. McNeill, Donnie Cameron and Don Trivett poured it on for three hits each.
A last of the seventh rally for two runs sparked by Bill Kingdon and Harold Botham enabled Vandorf to sneak out a home 11-10 win over Belhaven. Dorfers had to work to get back in after Belhaven went for a seven run second frame. Lloyd Preston and Bill Hammond with four, Harold Botham, Bill Kingdon and Jim Preston with three per man were the big sockers with Vandorf. Irwin Davidson, Duff Sedore and Herb Tomlinson lashed out for three hits each to pace the Bel's attack. The win hoisted Vandorf out of the league basement.
Despite the fact the Keswick power-house hitters went for a six-run sixth, Belhaven eased out an 8-7 win at home over the league leaders. Bill Stanyer with a four-sacker and Ken Hodgins with two triples pepped Keswick. Judd Rutledge and Bob Winch nailed homers for Belhaven.
The Mounties are in unfamiliar territory, at the bottom of the heap. Pine Orchard cooled them out 11-6. "Josh" Preston chucked a seven-hitter for the winners. "Hornor" Rutledge opened on Mount mound, giving way to Ken "Red" Mitchell in the fifth after Orchardmen pounded for five runs. Mitch didn't allow a run. Doug Card for his first four-bagger and old standbys "Chick" Shropshire and Howie Ash topped Orchard hit list. Elmo Paisley and Charlie "Muscles" Green were outfielding tops and both polished off doubles. "Mitch" tagged a two RBI single.
Games ahead: July 5, Vandorf at Mount Albert; July 6, Hope at Belhaven, Keswick at Willow Beach; July 9, Mount Albert at Queensville, Zephyr at Belhaven.

Bergers Rally To Take King In Peel-York
Schomberg, King and Woodbridge were Peel-York League winners over the week. A five-run sixth innings enabled King to humble the league door-mats Kettleby 8-3 Thursday. Bob Gillies with a three for four, Jim Patton, Ted Rose and Cliff Armstrong with two each powered King. Cal Doan was Kettleby's answer with three. Gord Orr picked up the pitching chips over Kettleby's Jim. Flanagan.
The long awaited clash of King and Schomberg came off under the lights at Schomberg Park Friday. After King had wedged out a 5-3 lead in the sixth the Bergers exploded for three in the sixth and the same in the eighth for a 9-6 win. Doug Brown and Murray Edwards found the combined offerings of Phil Hobson and Gordie Orr to their liking. Edwards picking three, Brownie two. Ken, Ellison had troubles subduing King sluggers Stan. Foster four for five, Bob Gillies three for four and Jim Patton three for five. Stan Foster doubled for the extra base.
Pottageville ran into a stone-wall at Woodbridge dropping a 9-4 decision. Howard Archibald and Jack Grimley were touched freely by the Bridges who bounced in feet first with six in the first. Howard Archibald supplemented his pitching with two hits and Jack Cober was the other two-hitter.
Doug Marchant's five for six hit fire-works went for nought as Schomberg and Pottageville had to abandon their contest, Schomberg leading 7-5, in the sixth due to the rain. Murray Edwards was the other big gun in Schomberg bat bag. Reg. Lipssett powered one of Don Marchant's Sunday chucks for a homer and Harvey Hill tied the can to two doubles.

Rockets Show Power, Win Two, Tie Cedar Brae
Queensville "Rockets" of the Junior (boys) Lake Simcoe circuit are starting to make the fans sit up and take notice. Over the past week they collected two wins and held the effervescent sluggers out of Cedar Brae to a 20 all stalemate. Home run clouting from Ron Breen, Ron Beckett, Don Breen and Carl Pickeral made the tying effort possible.
Paced by Ron Breen's, John Goode's, Ken Smith's and Ron Beckett's extra base hitting, Queensville downed Mount Albert 16-9 for their first win of the week. Johnnie Goode's two homers and Ron Breen's three baser were the big items in Queensville nosing out Holt - latest entrant in the circuit - 14-2.
Keswick sneaked out with an 8-7 win over Belhaven in the league's tightest battle. Ted Rogers won the pitching decision with aid from Ron Connell's homer and triple and Albert Smith's three baser.

Diggers Tighten Hold On Aurora Loop Lead
Fashioning runs in every innings but the fourth, Ditch Diggers tightened their stranglehold on the top rung of the Aurora Town League with a 16-8 win over the basement dwelling Merchants on Thursday. The Diggers cuffed away for five runs in the fifth and four in the third to give their biggest display of power-hitting.
Mickey Sutton, Diggers' moundman supplemented his ample pitching job with three safeties. Stan Romanvitch, making his first start, and Bill Mundell each rapped out two.
Ron. Simmons and Jack Andrews, Clossman surprises, picked up a couple of hits each. Jim Murray had a taste of action at almost every infield station. Don Holman injured his ankle sliding into third and it was feared he may have fractured a small bone or got a bad sprain.

Gals Tee Off On Stayner Pitches 12-2
Stayner ladies, who provided little more than a base-running and batting practice for Newmarket ladies on their first visit a couple of weeks ago showed amazing improvement on their second appearance Thursday. Before the Stayner bubble burst, allowing Newmarket a four-run fifth and five-run sixth for a 12-2 home triumph, Stayner held on grimly as the local maids nursed along a 3-2 edge.
Lois Darrach homered with Mary Ellen McLnlin on the base paths. Lois Blight, Mona Dean and Jackie Moore spanked out singles and Mary Osborne walked to open up a 7-2 margin. Five runs in the sixth on an error, two walks, and singles by Lois Blight, "Pud" Bovair, Mona Dean and Mary Ellen McLnlin made it 12-2.
Arlene Moore, ex-Newmarket, started Stayner's two run rally in the fourth away, an error and singles by Ruth Dickey, Sylvia Thompson and Alma Kenwell kept it alive.
Coach Charlie VanZant got good hitting. Mary Ellen McLnlin got three hits, two sinkers around home dish, and contributed several nice outfield catches. Lois Blight, Mona Dean and Jackie Moore furnished two safeties each. Lois Darrach collected the only extra base drive, a four-bagger.
Sidlight was the sister duel between our Jackie and Arlene Moore, Arlene playing short for the visitors banged away at two for four clip to out-smile her smiling sister.

Question Final Score In Junior Ladies' Clash
After trailing 16-7 at the end of four innings, Newmarket junior ladies staged an 11-run uprising in the fifth and went on to win a 22-20 decision over Belhaven Thursday in a Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies League contest. It seems likely the auditors will have to be called in to audit the score sheets as Belhaven's scoremaster wound it up a 20 all draw.
Darlene Stuffles, Newmarket starter, was smacked hard and often as the Bel cuties grabbed an early lead with an eight-run first, a single in the second and seven in the third. Coach Fred Dillman waving in Jeanne MacDonald and Jeanne wasn't touched for a run until the Belhaven misses lit out for four in the gathering darkness of the seventh.

NEWMARKET HITTERS WERE JOAN QUINN, JEANNE MACDONALD, BETTY MCARTHUR AND ROXY WEST.
Joan Kidd and Kathy Diecman topped the Belhaven hitters with four each. Grace Stiles, Dot Menar's left-hander, had Hubtown hitters swinging until they busted out in the fifth.
Belhaven: J. Thompson, J. Kidd, E. Cryderman, K. Diecman, A. Kidd, G. Stiles, J. Whitaker, M. Cryderman, M. Carpenter.
Newmarket: G. Woodhouse, J. Robinson, J. Quinn, J. MacDonald, B. McArthur, B. Watt, R. West, M. Martin, D. Stuffles, I. Rogers.

SUTTON WINS 25-8
Trailing 12-8 going into the fateful seventh Keswick saw what chance they had of overhauling Sutton vanish into thin air as the Greensox piled in for 13 runs to win 25-8. The scheduled Lake Simcoe Junior Ladies League contest was played at Keswick last Wednesday. It was the fourth loss for the home forces in five games.
